IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

FEBRUARY 11, 2019

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi (for himself and Mrs. LOWEY) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Homeland Security, and in addition to the Committee on Oversight and Reform, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned

A BILL

To enhance the security operations of the Transportation Security Administration and stability of the transportation security workforce by applying the personnel system under title 5, United States Code, to employees of the Transportation Security Administration who provide screening of all passengers and property, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Rights for Transporta-
3 tion Security Officers Act of 2019”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS; SENSE OF CONGRESS.

5 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

6 (1) On September 11, 2001, nineteen terrorists,
7 who underwent airport security screening prior to 8 boarding domestic flights, were able to commandeer
9 four airplanes and use those airplanes to perpetrate
10 the most deadly terrorist attack ever to be executed
11 on United States soil.

12 (2) In the aftermath of those attacks, Congress
13 passed the Aviation and Transportation Security Act
14 (ATSA), enacted by President George W. Bush on 15 November 19, 2001 (Public Law 107–71), to en-16 hance the level of security screening throughout our 17 aviation system and transfer responsibility for such 18 screening from the private sector to a new Federal 19 agency, the Transportation Security Administration
20 (TSA).

21 (3) TSA was established in recognition of the 22 need to raise the level of screener performance and 23 that achieving such performance is directly linked to 24 employment and training standards, pay and bene-
25 fits, and the creation of an experienced, committed 26 Federal screening workforce.

1 (4) The Aviation and Transportation Security
2 Act included a statutory footnote allowing the TSA
3 Administrator to “employ, appoint, discipline, termi-4 nate, and fix the compensation”, including the 5 “terms, and conditions of employment of Federal 6 Service for such a number of individuals as the [Ad-
7 ministrator] determines to be necessary to carry out
8 the screening functions of the Under Secretary
9 under section 44901 of title 49, United States
10 Code”.

11 (5) TSA has cited the ATSA footnote as the 12 basis for developing a personnel system for the TSO
13 workforce, while all other Transportation Security
14 Administration employees, including managers, are 15 under the Federal personnel system provided under 16 title 5, United States Code, as incorporated in title
17 49 of such Code.

18 (6) In November 2006, the International Labor
19 Organization ruled that the Bush administration vio-
20 lated international labor law when it prohibited
21 Transportation Security Officers from engaging in 22 collective bargaining.

23 (7) After the Federal Labor Relations Board
24 approved a petition for the election of an exclusive
25 representative, on February 4, 2011, then-TSA Ad-

1 ministrator John Pistole issued a binding determina-
2 tion stating in part “it is critical that every TSA
3 employee feels that he or she has a voice and feels 4 safe raising issues and concerns of all kinds. This is 5 important not just for morale; engagement of every 6 employee is critically important for security”.

7 (8) Subsequently, in 2014, then-Administrator
8 Pistole issued a second determination, which was su-
9 perseded by a 2016 determination, which changed
10 the previous guidelines for collective bargaining and 11 limited the subjects that can be bargained as well as 12 issues in dispute that may be raised to an inde-
13 pendent, third-party neutral decisionmaker.

14 (9) The 2011, 2014, and 2016 determinations
15 cited the ATSA footnote as authority to create a
16 personnel system that denies the Transportation Se-
17 curity Officer workforce the same rights and protec-
18 tions under title 5, United States Code, as other
19 Federal workers, including the right to present
20 grievances to a neutral third party, fair pay under 21 the General Services wage system, including access
22 to overtime pay and earned leave, and Fair Labor
23 Standards Act protections.

24 (10) The Transportation Security Officer work-
25 force is an integral component of the security frame-

1 work in place since the terrorist attacks on Sep-
2 tember 11, 2001, and responsible for screening more
3 than 738 million passengers annually.

4 (11) In the course of their work, Transpor-
5 tation Security Officers not only identify aviation se-
6 curity threats but also identify kidnapping and traf-
7 ficking victims and prevent firearms from being 8 brought on planes in carry-on bags. In 2018 alone,
9 4,239 firearms were discovered by Transportation
10 Security Officers at aviation security checkpoints.

11 (12) Every day, Transportation Security Offi-
12 cers put their safety on the line to protect the flying
13 public and on November 1, 2013, a Transportation
14 Security Officer, Gerardo Hernandez, gave his life to 15 protect the flying public when he was killed by a
16 gunman who attacked the Los Angeles International 17 Airport.

18 (13) Transportation Security Officers are vital
19 to aviation security and have kept the American 20 aviation system secure, even during lapses in appro-21 priations, when they were not paid. For 16 days in 22 2013, three days in 2018, and, most recently, 35
23 days in at the end of 2018 through early 2019, the 24 TSA workforce worked without pay alongside air-25 plane safety specialists, air traffic controllers, and

1 other Federal workers responsible for the aviation
2 security and safety framework that has protected
3 United States air travel since 2001.

4 (14) The adverse impact of two missed pay-
5 checks during the shutdown that took place between 6 December 22, 2018, and January 25, 2019, was felt
7 disproportionately by the Transportation Security
8 Officer workforce, with many Officers receiving 9 starting salaries of as low as $32,000.

10 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
11 gress that the Transportation Security Administration's
12 personnel system for the Transportation Security Officer
13 workforce provides insufficient benefits and workplace
14 protections to these frontline personnel who secure the 15 United States aviation system, and that such personnel
16 should be provided protections and benefits under title 5,
17 United States Code.
